

JUST GOSSIP ABOUT PEOPLE

Card Party Held at Chelsea Benefits Red Bank Sanatorium. Camping Has Charms, and Again It Hasn't.

THE sanatorium for poor children at Red Bank, N. J., benefited by a card party which was given by Miss Helen Snowden Lawson at the Chelsea Hotel this week. Nearly every woman down at Chelsea and Ventnor who is fond of card playing attended, and there was a very smart array all told.

One has but to see the great sanatorium in operation to know the splendid work that is done there. More than 1000 women and children go down on the boats that steam from the Kensington or South street wharfs here to Red Bank every day.

A great many take advantage of the opportunity to get away from the dirty streets and summer heat. There is no expense involved, and sick babies may remain two weeks in the hospital at Red Bank. All children who go there needing attention are treated by the physician in charge.

Besides the medical attention every variety of amusement is provided, the best sterilized milk is given to the babies and plenty of strong, nourishing soup and tea and crackers to the older children and mothers.

The late Mr. William J. Wetherill was treasurer of the sanatorium for years, and the late Mr. George D. McCreary was president. The present officers are Mr. John V. Combs, president, and Mr. Howard M. Young, treasurer.

The card party at the Chelsea was certainly a success. When you know you are going to help on a work like that you want to play cards, don't you? Or do whatever else is gotten up for the purpose of raising funds.

CAMPING out for vacation seems to be the rage these days; in fact, each year the fad grows, for as it is a healthy way of "vacationing" it is to be commended on all sides.

While camp life has its pleasures it has at times its drawbacks, however. Witness a recent experience of a girl I know, who had gone to a friend's camp in Maine. She and a companion drove to the lake in showery rain to find that the greater part of the bridge which led across the lake to their camp had been washed away.

Well, she got there finally, and I believe the trunk arrived a day later, with the umbrella attached. Back to the primitive all right, nest-ee pas? But she loves it, so why make remarks?

THE Arthur Morton Wilsons have rented their house, Shady Side, at Stratford, to Mr. and Mrs. Edwin H. Obdyke, of New York, for the summer. I was interested yesterday to hear that Mr. Obdyke, who is here in connection with one of the shipyards, was formerly a law partner of Major John Purroy Mitchell, whose tragic death and great public funeral have been an important part of this country's history during this last week.

while on shore in France. My hat is off to Mrs. Dolan. It's a fine idea. Her daughter, Rose Dolan, you know, is in France driving an ambulance and Alex is studying nursing here.

Social Activities The guests at the luncheon to be given today by Miss Rachel Fitter, of Guilfordtown, Villanova, in honor of Miss Anne Metz, whose engagement to Captain Clement Newbold Taylor has recently been announced, include Miss Lucile P. Carter, Miss Katherine C. Lea, Miss Lorraine G. Graham and Miss Ruth Hobart.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Belding, of Bryn Mawr, are spending the week-end at Atlantic City. Mr. and Mrs. John F. Meigs, 2d, of Ithaca, returned on Friday from a motor trip through the northern part of the State.

Mr. Robert M. Girvin, Jr., and her little daughter, Alice Girvin, are spending a week at Cape May. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert B. Powell entertained at dinner last evening, at their home in Wayne. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Dinkey and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Clothier.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jenison, who have been staying at the Bellevue-Stratford, have taken an apartment at Haverford Court for the summer. Friends of Miss M. S. Stokes, of Germantown, will be glad to know that she has recovered from her recent illness and has gone to Atlantic City to recuperate.

Mrs. William Worell Wagner, of School House and Gipsy lanes, Germantown, will leave the end of this month to motor to East Gloucester, Me., where she will visit her daughter, Mrs. William Warts Harmon. News has been received of the safe arrival in Italy of Mrs. Wagner's son, Mr. Joseph Longstreth, U. S. A. S.

Mrs. S. MacCurn Smith, who will be the greater part of the summer at her home, 218 West Chester avenue, Germantown, will spend the week-ends morning to Spring Lake, N. J.

Mrs. Barclay H. Warburton will spend a week in August with her mother, Mrs. John Wammaker, at Bretton Woods, N. H. Mrs. Wammaker will leave in a few weeks for that resort.

Miss Margaret A. Dallett is at Cape May for a stay of two weeks. Miss Dallett is the daughter of the late Judge Dallett and Mrs. Dallett, of 266 South Twenty-first street. Miss Grace P. Lower, Miss Ida Speer, Miss Ruth Filman, Miss Florence Duffy, Miss Sara Baker, Miss Ruth Winchester, Miss Kathryn Veale, Miss Myrtle Week and Miss Edith Young, of Tioga, will leave on August 1 for a fortnight's house party at Graterford. They will be chaperoned by Mrs. A. Wynant.

Mr. and Mrs. Gustavus C. S. Weizel will return from their wedding trip on Monday and will be at home at 1158 South Fifty-second street. The bride was Miss Frances Holmes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Holmes, of West Philadelphia. Mr. Weizel was formerly of North Broad street, Tioga.

Dr. and Mrs. E. Bryan Kyle, of the Montevista Apartments, Sixty-third and Oxford streets, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Elsie V. Kyle, and Private Edmond John Hoffman, 212th Field Artillery, Camp Meade. Private Hoffman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hoffmann.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Rosenstien, of 2121 West Ontario street, and their sons, Masters Louis, George and Howard Rosenstien, will leave today for Point Pleasant, Bucks County, Pa., where they will spend the rest of the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McDowell, of 3132 Diamond street, are occupying their cottage at Ventnor. Mrs. Isaac Lowengrund and her family, of Spring Garden street, have gone to Kennebunkport, Me.

Mrs. Joseph Wolff, of 3127 North Gratz street, is visiting her mother, Mrs. W. Lowerbaum, in Atlantic City.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Thomas, of 1829 North Park avenue, will motor to Bradley Beach, N. J., for the week-end.

Will Preach on Parkway The Rev. Norman Van Pelt Lewis, rector of the Church of the Incarnation, will deliver a patriotic address tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock on the site of the Episcopal Cathedral on the Parkway. The vested choir of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Kensington, under the direction of Frank Longshore, will lead the singing.

MISS MURIEL SCHULTZ Daughter of Mrs. Sayen Schultz, of St. Davids, who was maid of honor at the wedding of her sister, Miss Katharine Schultz. Mr. Robert W. A. Wood, The photograph is by Photo-Crafters.

WILL WED HARTFORD MAN THIS EVENING

Pretty Wedding for Miss Maud Scott and Mr. George Newton, Jr., U. S. N. R. F.

Miss Maud Scott, daughter of Mrs. Lewis Paves Scott, of 119 East Johnson street, Germantown, will be married this evening at 8 o'clock to Mr. George H. Newton, Jr., U. S. N. R. F., of Hartford, Conn. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Richard Morris in St. Michael's Episcopal Church, Germantown. The bride will be given in marriage by her cousin, Mr. Thomas H. Albertson. Miss Charlotte Morris will be maid of honor, and the bridesmaids will be Miss Beatrice Henkels and Miss Katharine McFarland. The two flower girls will be Miss Mary Albertson, cousin of the bride, and Miss Mary Chase Allen, niece of the bridegroom. Mr. F. Duffield Hopkins will be best man, and the ushers will be Mr. Russell Newton, cousin of the bridegroom; Mr. Robert Dudley Chapin, brother-in-law of the bridegroom; Mr. Elmer Hanson and Mr. David Collander, U. S. N. R. F., of New York.

The bride will be gowned in white embroidered georgette crepe and satin, with a court train of satin. Her tulle veil will be caught with orange blossoms and she will carry a bridal bouquet. The maid of honor will wear pale yellow silk tissue with a hat to match and will carry yellow roses. The bridesmaids will wear frocks of pale pink organdy with hats to match and will carry pale pink roses and larkspur. The flower girls will wear white dresses with pale pink bonnets of pale pink trimmed with blue and white curly larkspur. The wedding will be followed by a reception for the two families and a few intimate friends.

MOYER—COPE A wedding of interest in this city and in Collingswood, N. J., was that of Miss Elsie M. Cope, daughter of the Rev. W. Dallas Cope, pastor of the Northwest Memorial Baptist Church, Lehigh avenue and Twenty-third street, and Mrs. Cope and Mr. George C. Moyer, of Collingswood, N. J., which took place on Wednesday at noon at the home of the bride's parents, 4425 North Eighteenth street. The ceremony was performed by the bride's father, Miss Betty Borton attended the bride and Mr. John Collmer was the best man. The service was followed by a breakfast at the home of the bridegroom and the bride will be at home at 4425 North Eighteenth street.

MIDSUMMER FETE TODAY Red Cross to Benefit by Affair Given by Woman's Club This Afternoon

A midsummer fete was held this afternoon and evening in Drexel Hill for the benefit of the Red Cross. The affair was the work of the Women's Club of Drexel Hill. Mrs. Charles B. Webb is chairman of the affair. All the usual booths that are seen at such affairs were on the courts every day. There were a number of features. In the afternoon there was a baby parade, a Punch and Judy show for the children and card tables for the adults. A French paper apple that grows on its branches, a French night suit, a series of attractive articles, the parcel post had a package for every one while interesting fortunes were told. Flowers, fakes, home-made cakes, candies, conds and other refreshments were for sale. In the evening there was a moving-picture show, a country store, which will offer prizes to its patrons, and general dancing. The fete is being held on Forrest avenue east of 11th.

Philadelphians Spending Summer at Southern Resort Enjoy Golf, Tennis and Riding

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., July 13. Philadelphians are daily adding to the list of visitors already gathered at White Sulphur Springs, which is at the height in sport and social activities. Golf, tennis and riding are at their best, and those who are fond of outdoor exercise find the courts, links and trails splendid. Mr. and Mrs. John C. Bell, Jr., who are here from Philadelphia on their honeymoon, are among the crack tennis players. After a short trip the bridegroom and bride will be at home at 4425 North Eighteenth street.

WELFARE WORKERS HAVE NO IDLE TIME Volunteers in Home Service Department of Red Cross Shoulder Heavy Responsibilities

Volunteer social welfare workers with the home-service department of the Red Cross shoulder a heavy responsibility. With every departing train of soldiers the social-service worker finds new families on her hands. Mr. George Dallas Dixon, who is here from Philadelphia, gave a tea for sixteen guests at the Casino on Sunday. Miss Josephine H. McCreary, of Philadelphia, who is spending the summer with Mrs. Henry Rutledge Bault, gave a luncheon at the Casino on Tuesday.

Mr. L. Howard Weatherly, with her two daughters, Miss Suzanne Smith and Miss Carol Smith, arrived on Tuesday from Philadelphia to spend the summer. The Misses Smith, who are among the most enthusiastic players of bridge in the city, were in the Greenbrier Country House Show at Th. Meadows last August and will probably play in the show this year, which will be held on August 9 and 10 for the benefit of the Red Cross.

Miss Katharine McLaughlin and Miss Jeanne McLaughlin, of New Brunswick, N. J., have arrived at the Greenbrier, where they will spend the summer. Miss Jeanne McLaughlin rides daily and is frequently on the golf links.

Mr. J. Drexel Paul, of Philadelphia, is active in the sports at White Sulphur Springs and is on the tennis courts and golf links every day. Mr. and Mrs. Samuel P. Davidge, Miss Margaret Purdy and Miss Elizabeth Davidge, of Short Hills, N. J., motored to White Sulphur Springs to remain for a month. Golf tournaments are being featured at White Sulphur Springs this season for the benefit of the Red Cross, and this last week the Greenbrier summer tournament was played with a large entry at the usual time.

The purpose of the league is to bring food administration, spent the last week with Mr. Herbert M. Hoover in Washington.

GIRL WORKERS FIND HELPFUL ADJUNCTS Cafeterias and Other Conveniences Provided by Business Women's Christian League

Girls who have been coming in to Philadelphia for various war work are learning rapidly the opportunities that are offered them through the Business Women's Christian League. At an interesting meeting held at the league, at 1118 Walnut street, girls of the Emergency Conservation Corps of the three cafeterias at the branches at 1118 Walnut street, 124 South Third street and 443 North Ffteenth street, and, besides, there are comfortable rest rooms, with books and magazines.

Classes in French are held during the summer, where the girls can learn to speak the language naturally at the same time, to which they have become accustomed while in France. The girls learned besides of the opportunities for preparing their clothes there, which is an opportunity that they can appreciate; of the Saturday afternoon recreation program and of the summer camp.

The following members of the committee were among those at the meeting: Miss Margaret Ray, Miss Margaret Adams, Miss Louise Marks, Miss Elizabeth McMullen, Mrs. Marguerite Dyer, Miss Mary Moulton, Miss Anita Ellsworth, Miss Mary Bray and Miss Klouis Brown.

RECENT BRIDE AND MAID OF HONOR

Miss Letta Sullivan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Francis Sullivan, and her sister, Miss Frances Sullivan, who was maid of honor at her wedding on Saturday, July 6. The photograph is by Bachrach.

OUTDOOR SPORTS AT WHITE SULPHUR

Philadelphians Spending Summer at Southern Resort Enjoy Golf, Tennis and Riding

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., July 13. Philadelphians are daily adding to the list of visitors already gathered at White Sulphur Springs, which is at the height in sport and social activities. Golf, tennis and riding are at their best, and those who are fond of outdoor exercise find the courts, links and trails splendid. Mr. and Mrs. John C. Bell, Jr., who are here from Philadelphia on their honeymoon, are among the crack tennis players. After a short trip the bridegroom and bride will be at home at 4425 North Eighteenth street.

GIRLS HAVE SWIM IN SWARTHMORE POOL

Business Women's Christian League Entertains Young Women at "Week-End Party"

More than seventy-five young women from all sections of the city enjoyed their bathing suits and caps for a swim in the Swarthmore College pool this afternoon under the auspices of the Business Women's Christian League of Philadelphia.

Mrs. W. Allan Brown and other alumnae of the college formed the social committee in charge of evening. Miss S. A. Westerman was chairman.

The girls met at the league headquarters, 1118 Walnut street, at 7 o'clock, each with her own bathing suit and lunch. The party went on the trolley shortly to the college gymnasium and swimming was the first part of the program.

The league has arranged special week-end parties for young business women for the remainder of the summer, including: July 29—Lawn party at the home of Mrs. G. R. Robinson and Mrs. E. A. Hazard, Wynnton; Pa. Leader, Miss Mary Wright; chaperon, Miss Laura Bond.

August 2—Boat ride and picnic at Brandywine Springs. Leader, Miss Anna E. Bell, chaperon, Miss Margaret Clifton.

August 5—"What's Next?" The Allied Forces—league, golf, tennis—to meet with General Stephens at 1118 Walnut street at 1:30 o'clock to locate the enemy, girls' club, under General Jafoffa. Chaperon, Miss Hattie Taggart and Miss Roy.

August 17—Track meet at Belmont. Leader, Miss Helen Mar and Miss May Martin; chaperons, Miss M. M. Matze and Miss Bertha I. Benson.

August 21—Trip to "Greenfield's" Leaders, Miss Irma Bachman and Miss Esther Johnson; chaperon, Miss Nina S. Rogers.

August 21—Camp cooking, Crum Creek, Swarthmore. Leader, Miss Margaret Clifton; chaperon, Mrs. Amanda White.

August 27—Like among the Wissahickon and visit to Mr. Franklin Spencer Edmonds. Leader, Miss Mary C. Peacock; chaperon, Mrs. F. S. Edwards.

Women's Work in War Activities Here

Applications for assistance made by members of soldiers' families to the Home Service department of Red Cross from their opening day in April, 1917, to July 1, 1918, numbered 2018. This shows the amount of their work. While financial aid is given it is a noteworthy fact that this is but the smallest consideration; advice in numerous problems, including medical and legal attention as to Government allotments and pensions, is a part of the budget of Red Cross from their opening day in April, 1917, to July 1, 1918, numbered 2018. This shows the amount of their work. While financial aid is given it is a noteworthy fact that this is but the smallest consideration; advice in numerous problems, including medical and legal attention as to Government allotments and pensions, is a part of the budget of Red Cross from their opening day in April, 1917, to July 1, 1918, numbered 2018. This shows the amount of their work.

At a meeting of the executive board of Emergency Aid today Mrs. Bayard Henry, chairman of the committee on Belgian relief, read a letter from the director of one of the large munitions plants reporting that as a result of the address made before the workers recently in this plant by Miss Suzanne Silverthorn, the young Belgian who has mounted the lecture platform in behalf of her country, the output of ammunition in the factory was increased last month more than 70 per cent.

At Paoli, where there is a marine camp, a branch of the Home Service department of Red Cross will look after needs for the men in such ways as their department services. Admiral Dewey described the young flag officer in his autobiography as a "capable, tactful young officer." The following account of the incident and Von Hintze's subsequent career in Germany was compiled by Mr. Hryn.

In his autobiography, published in 1913, Dewey referred to the unnamed flag officer in the following words: "On the following day Vice Admiral von Dietrich, near a capable, tactful young officer of his staff, with a memorandum of grievances. When I had heard him through, I made the point of the occasion by describing him as a person to state cordially, candidly and firmly my attitude in a verbal way which he conveyed to his superior so successfully that Admiral von Dietrich was able to understand my view."

Not such a favorable picture of the then flag officer was drawn by Captain Coghlin in his sensational exposé in 1899, at the Union League Club, New York, when he revealed Dewey's trouble at Manila. Captain Coghlin on that occasion said: "An officer of our friend, Admiral von Dietrich came down one day to make a complaint. I heard him tell the admiral about his complaint, and I heard the admiral reply: 'Tell your admiral those ships of his must stay where they are, until we make the blockade of this harbor complete.' The German officer replied: 'But we fly the flag,' Dewey answered: 'Those flags can be bought at half a dollar a piece here. Tell your admiral I am blockading here. Now note carefully what I say, and tell your admiral that I say it. I have been making this blockade for six days for everybody as I could, but I am getting tired of it. I have been so long here, I have been of such a character that a man would not notice it, although children might slight notice it, but the time has arrived when it must stop. To your admiral, I have the slightest intimation of any rule will mean anything. If it will be accepted and resented immediately, if your people are ready for it, I will be glad to see it. Tell your admiral any time.' Captain Coghlin related further: 'As he left with a face about this long (Coghlin holding up his hands apart), the German said to me, 'I think your admiral does not exactly understand.' Hintze after Manila rose to high rank in the German naval service. In 1901 he was made the first officer of the line-ship Kaiser Wilhelm II. In October of 1901 he was made the admiral staff officer of the German navy. In June, 1903, Hintze became naval attaché to the Scandinavian countries; in 1907 attached to the Kaiser's staff, and in 1910 appointed in 1908 and sent to St. Petersburg as German naval attaché.

The world again heard of Hintze when he received the rank of rear admiral in 1905, the admiral staff officer of the German navy. In June, 1905, Hintze became naval attaché to the Scandinavian countries; in 1907 attached to the Kaiser's staff, and in 1910 appointed in 1908 and sent to St. Petersburg as German naval attaché.

The world again heard of Hintze when he received the rank of rear admiral in 1905, the admiral staff officer of the German navy. In June, 1905, Hintze became naval attaché to the Scandinavian countries; in 1907 attached to the Kaiser's staff, and in 1910 appointed in 1908 and sent to St. Petersburg as German naval attaché.

The world again heard of Hintze when he received the rank of rear admiral in 1905, the admiral staff officer of the German navy. In June, 1905, Hintze became naval attaché to the Scandinavian countries; in 1907 attached to the Kaiser's staff, and in 1910 appointed in 1908 and sent to St. Petersburg as German naval attaché.

AWARD PEGGY SHIPPEN SOCIAL SERVICE MEDAL

Mrs. Cornelius Stevenson Honored by National Institute for Public Service Work

Mrs. Cornelius Stevenson, Sr. D., prominent in Philadelphia social circles and the foremost woman scientist in the city, has been awarded an honorary medal from the National Institute of Social Science. The medal is in recognition of her scientific and public service work and for her work in aid of injured humanity since the outbreak of the world war. Mrs. Stevenson contributed daily articles to the Public Ledger under the title of "Peggy Shippen's Reminiscences." I had not the slightest intimation that such an honor was to be paid me," said Mrs. Stevenson. "It came like a bolt from the blue; no have, I yet learned who was the instigator of it."

What's Doing Tonight House party for Hog Island girl workers, V. M. C. A. building, here, Saturday.

Meeting physical reserve committee of National Security League, McKim Hall, Ninth and Chestnut streets.

Municipal Band Concert, Second and Laurel streets.

MRS. VINCENT GODFREY Of the Margrave Apartments, wife of Lieutenant Godfrey, who has just returned from a year's service abroad. Mrs. Godfrey will be remembered as Miss Madeline D'Aughery. The photograph is by Bachrach.

MRS. VINCENT GODFREY Of the Margrave Apartments, wife of Lieutenant Godfrey, who has just returned from a year's service abroad. Mrs. Godfrey will be remembered as Miss Madeline D'Aughery. The photograph is by Bachrach.

NEW GERMAN MINISTER CARRIED DEWEY

Admiral Paul Von Hintze Flag Lieutenant at Battle of Manila Bay

Admiral Paul von Hintze, the new German Foreign Minister, in the name of Von Hintze, was a flag lieutenant, carried by the German Admiral Dietrich in Manila Bay, following the destruction of the Spanish fleet in July, 1898.

This episode in the career of the new German Foreign Minister was revived today by Edward T. Heyn, 1828 Race street, a former American newspaper correspondent to various European capitals, and American vice consul deputy to Belchenberg, Bohemia, and Capri, Italy, from 1910 to 1913.

Just four years ago, according to the facts compiled by Mr. Heyn, Admiral von Dietrich in an article published in the German Marine Rundschau said: "On July 10, 1898, my flag-officer, Captain Lieutenant Hintze, carried to Admiral Dewey verbal explanation, and what now follows I take from the report of Captain Lieutenant von Hintze."

Admiral Dewey described the young flag officer in his autobiography as a "capable, tactful young officer." The following account of the incident and Von Hintze's subsequent career in Germany was compiled by Mr. Hryn.

In his autobiography, published in 1913, Dewey referred to the unnamed flag officer in the following words: "On the following day Vice Admiral von Dietrich, near a capable, tactful young officer of his staff, with a memorandum of grievances. When I had heard him through, I made the point of the occasion by describing him as a person to state cordially, candidly and firmly my attitude in a verbal way which he conveyed to his superior so successfully that Admiral von Dietrich was able to understand my view."

Not such a favorable picture of the then flag officer was drawn by Captain Coghlin in his sensational exposé in 1899, at the Union League Club, New York, when he revealed Dewey's trouble at Manila. Captain Coghlin on that occasion said: "An officer of our friend, Admiral von Dietrich came down one day to make a complaint. I heard him tell the admiral about his complaint, and I heard the admiral reply: 'Tell your admiral those ships of his must stay where they are, until we make the blockade of this harbor complete.' The German officer replied: 'But we fly the flag,' Dewey answered: 'Those flags can be bought at half a dollar a piece here. Tell your admiral I am blockading here. Now note carefully what I say, and tell your admiral that I say it. I have been making this blockade for six days for everybody as I could, but I am getting tired of it. I have been so long here, I have been of such a character that a man would not notice it, although children might slight notice it, but the time has arrived when it must stop. To your admiral, I have the slightest intimation of any rule will mean anything. If it will be accepted and resented immediately, if your people are ready for it, I will be glad to see it. Tell your admiral any time.' Captain Coghlin related further: 'As he left with a face about this long (Coghlin holding up his hands apart), the German said to me, 'I think your admiral does not exactly understand.' Hintze after Manila rose to high rank in the German naval service. In 1901 he was made the first officer of the line-ship Kaiser Wilhelm II. In October of 1901 he was made the admiral staff officer of the German navy. In June, 1905, Hintze became naval attaché to the Scandinavian countries; in 1907 attached to the Kaiser's staff, and in 1910 appointed in 1908 and sent to St. Petersburg as German naval attaché.

The world again heard of Hintze when he received the rank of rear admiral in 1905, the admiral staff officer of the German navy. In June, 1905, Hintze became naval attaché to the Scandinavian countries; in 1907 attached to the Kaiser's staff, and in 1910 appointed in 1908 and sent to St. Petersburg as German naval attaché.

The world again heard of Hintze when he received the rank of rear admiral in 1905, the admiral staff officer of the German navy. In June, 1905, Hintze became naval attaché to the Scandinavian countries; in 1907 attached to the Kaiser's staff, and in 1910 appointed in 1908 and sent to St. Petersburg as German naval attaché.

PLAN RUMMAGE SALE FOR EMERGENCY AID

Service Star Branch of Overseas Committee Will Hold Second Bazaar on July 23

Dozens of calls have been made at the headquarters of the Service Star branch of the Overseas Committee of the Red Cross, this week as a result of a rumor that a second rummage sale encouraged by the success of several weeks ago was taking place. That was not the slightest intimation that such an honor was to be paid me," said Mrs. Stevenson. "It came like a bolt from the blue; no have, I yet learned who was the instigator of it."

What's Doing Tonight House party for Hog Island girl workers, V. M. C. A. building, here, Saturday.

Meeting physical reserve committee of National Security League, McKim Hall, Ninth and Chestnut streets.

Municipal Band Concert, Second and Laurel streets.

MRS. VINCENT GODFREY Of the Margrave Apartments, wife of Lieutenant Godfrey, who has just returned from a year's service abroad. Mrs. Godfrey will be remembered as Miss Madeline D'Aughery. The photograph is by Bachrach.

MRS. VINCENT GODFREY Of the Margrave Apartments, wife of Lieutenant Godfrey, who has just returned from a year's service abroad. Mrs. Godfrey will be remembered as Miss Madeline D'Aughery. The photograph is by Bachrach.

NEW GERMAN MINISTER CARRIED DEWEY

Admiral Paul Von Hintze Flag Lieutenant at Battle of Manila Bay

Admiral Paul von Hintze, the new German Foreign Minister, in the name of Von Hintze, was a flag lieutenant, carried by the German Admiral Dietrich in Manila Bay, following the destruction of the Spanish fleet in July, 1898.

This episode in the career of the new German Foreign Minister was revived today by Edward T. Heyn, 1828 Race street, a former American newspaper correspondent to various European capitals, and American vice consul deputy to Belchenberg, Bohemia, and Capri, Italy, from 1910 to 1913.

Just four years ago, according to the facts compiled by Mr. Heyn, Admiral von Dietrich in an article published in the German Marine Rundschau said: "On July 10, 1898, my flag-officer, Captain Lieutenant Hintze, carried to Admiral Dewey verbal explanation, and what now follows I take from the report of Captain Lieutenant von Hintze."

Admiral Dewey described the young flag officer in his autobiography as a "capable, tactful young officer." The following account of the incident and Von Hintze's subsequent career in Germany was compiled by Mr. Hryn.

In his autobiography, published in 1913, Dewey referred to the unnamed flag officer in the following words: "On the following day Vice Admiral von Dietrich, near a capable, tactful young officer of his staff, with a memorandum of grievances. When I had heard him through, I made the point of the occasion by describing him as a person to state cordially, candidly and firmly my attitude in a verbal way which he conveyed to his superior so successfully that Admiral von Dietrich was able to understand my view."

Not such a favorable picture of the then flag officer was drawn by Captain Coghlin in his sensational exposé in 1899, at the Union League Club, New York, when he revealed Dewey's trouble at Manila. Captain Coghlin on that occasion said: "An officer of our friend, Admiral von Dietrich came down one day to make a complaint. I heard him tell the admiral about his complaint, and I heard the admiral reply: 'Tell your admiral those ships of his must stay where they are, until we make the blockade of this harbor complete.' The German officer replied: 'But we fly the flag,' Dewey answered: 'Those flags can be bought at half a dollar a piece here. Tell your admiral I am blockading here. Now note carefully what I say, and tell your admiral that I say it. I have been making this blockade for six days for everybody as I could, but I am getting tired of it. I have been so long here, I have been of such a character that a man would not notice it, although children might slight notice it, but the time has arrived when it must stop. To your admiral, I have the slightest intimation of any rule will mean anything. If it will be accepted and resented immediately, if your people are ready for it, I will be glad to see it. Tell your admiral any time.' Captain Coghlin related further: 'As he left with a face about this long (Coghlin holding up his hands apart), the German said to me, 'I think your admiral does not exactly understand.' Hintze after Manila rose to high rank in the German naval service. In 1901 he was made the first officer of the line-ship Kaiser Wilhelm II. In October of 1901 he was made the admiral staff officer of the German navy. In June, 1905, Hintze became naval attaché to the Scandinavian countries; in 1907 attached to the Kaiser's staff, and in 1910 appointed in 1908 and sent to St. Petersburg as German naval attaché.

The world again heard of Hintze when he received the rank of rear admiral in 1905, the admiral staff officer of the German navy. In June, 1905, Hintze became naval attaché to the Scandinavian countries; in 1907 attached to the Kaiser's staff, and in 1910 appointed in 1908 and sent to St. Petersburg as German naval attaché.

The world again heard of Hintze when he received the rank of rear admiral in 1905, the admiral staff officer of the German navy. In June, 1905, Hintze became naval attaché to the Scandinavian countries; in 1907 attached to the Kaiser's staff, and in 1910 appointed in 1908 and sent to St. Petersburg as German naval attaché.

PLAN RUMMAGE SALE FOR EMERGENCY AID

Service Star Branch of Overseas Committee Will Hold Second Bazaar on July 23

Dozens of calls have been made at the headquarters of the Service Star branch of the Overseas Committee of the Red Cross, this week as a result of a rumor that a second rummage sale encouraged by the success of several weeks ago was taking place. That was not the slightest intimation that such an honor was to be paid me," said Mrs. Stevenson. "It came like a bolt from the blue; no have, I yet learned who was the instigator of it."

What's Doing Tonight House party for Hog Island girl workers, V. M. C. A. building, here, Saturday.

Meeting physical reserve committee of National Security League, McKim Hall, Ninth and Chestnut streets.

Municipal Band Concert, Second and Laurel streets.

MRS. VINCENT GODFREY Of the Margrave Apartments, wife of Lieutenant Godfrey, who has just returned from a year's service abroad. Mrs. Godfrey will be remembered as Miss Madeline D'Aughery. The photograph is by Bachrach.

MRS. VINCENT GODFREY Of the Margrave Apartments, wife